THE McKINLEY MEMORIAL FUND.

Contributions Will Be Received By The Age and the Names of Contributors Published.

Contributions to the McKinley memorial fund will be received at the office of THE AGE. The checks of the rich and the nickels of the poor will be accepted for the association, and each contributor will receive a souvenir certificate as evidence of the holder's participation in the noble work.

The McKinley National Memorial association has been chartered and President Roosevelt has named the trustees. These gentlemen have formed their organization by the election of Hon. William R. Day, of Canton, president; Hon. M. A. Hanna, of Cleveland, vice president; Colonel Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, treasurer; Ryerson Ritchie, of Cleveland, secretary.

The purposes of the association are the erection and maintenance at Canton of a suitable memorial to the late President McKinley, and raising the necessary funds for these purposes. The surplus funds, if there be any, are to be devoted to such memorial as may by provided for the late President at Washington. It is the purpose to have the offerings of the people voluntary, with a full opportunity to all to contribute. The memorial is to be in the highest sense the sincere expression of all the people of the country of their love for President McKinley and of their admiration for the qualities expressed so eminently in his life and deeds.

Coshocton people desiring to contribute to the fund can send their subscriptions to THE AGE office, and they will be forwarded to the treasurer of the association from whom will come the receipt in the form of the souvenir acknowledgement. The names of contributors will appear in THE AGE from day to day.

The association will require a large amount of money in order that its plans may be carried out, and Coshocton will certainly want to be numbered among the communities of the country that are anxious and willing to add to the last testimonial for so great a man as William McKinley.

BLEW THE SAFE AT DANVILLE BANK

After Capturing Professer Wattell and Holding Him Prisonor.

BOLD DEED OF EIGHT BANDITS

People Alarmed by the Fire Bell Drove the Invaders to the Woods—Plucky Doctor Shot Twice—They Got Nothing.

[Special telegram to THE AGE.]

DANVILLE, Oct. 15—Eight men heavily armed blew the safe at the Danville bank this morning between two and three o'clock. They got nothing but it proved the most exciting time in the history of the village. In the fight that followed no one was hurt.

Professor Wattell, superintendent of the public schools, had been in the country and was making his way home when he met a party of eight men. Four were masked and the hats of the others were pulled over their faces. They were comfortably dressed, and heavily armed with rifles, shotguns and re olvers. The were led by a man whose every word they obeyed. The professor had ample time to gather these details afterward for they seized and bound him without ceremony and took him to the Danville bank. One man was stationed in the alley north of the buildings, three guarded South Market street, one looked after the professor who was thrown down in front of the bank, and another was sent to patrol the upper part of town. The remaining two entered the bank.

They were well provided with dynamite and nitro glycerine, and went about their work quietly. Five charges were exploded and every window in the building broken. The last charge was effective, and the fireproof doors of the safe were blown off with such force as to send them through the south wall of the building into the lot adjoining.

They then attacked the doors to the vault where the cash is kept, but without success. Three explosions were heard, but the doors refused to open. As though to warn them that their attempt at robbery was a failure two bullets flattened against the safe, fired from across the street by Doctor Shaffer. The pair in the bank were ready to leave.

Meantime the people were aroused. The first explosion awakened persons living near the bank, but the patrol drove them back to their homes. H. W. Tuttle, a clerk in the dry goods store of E. C. Lybarger, attempted to leave his home, but a guard ordered him to remain where he was, threatening to blow off his head if he came out. Ludwick, the village blacksmith, succeeded in reaching the fire bell and sounded the alarm. People came pouring into the streets, and the burglars prepared to leave. The men in the bank ran out along the street, picking up the patrols as they went, but holding the people back and shooting in all directions.

Before the gang entered Danville they stole two buggies and a surrey, one buggy from William Sott and the surrey from William Don, who live almost three miles to the east. They had hitched the horses at a place easily reached and upon leaving the bank ran to them. They quickly cut the straps and urged the horses at full speed through Buckeye City. A running fire was kept up for almost a mile when the horses attached to the surrey became unmanageable and it was wrecked. But the gang were not to be outdone. With a shouting, excited mob at their heels, bullets and buckshot flying about them, they regained control of the horses, cut them loose from the surrey and galloped off in the darkness.

The people of Danville and Buckeye City immediately secured horses and followed, the men having gone in the direction of Bladensburg, where, it was reported at 9 o'clock this morning, six were surrounded in the woods.

The whole countryside was aroused, and scores of people followed the track of the gang. Telephone messages were sent to the sheriff at Mt. Vernon and he joined the chase with a force of deputies. Before daybreak the news had been spread far and wide and hundreds were watching for the thieves.

The scene at the bank was wreck and desolation complete. A great hole in the east wall showed where the outer doors of the safe had gone through, and broken glass and furniture were everywhere. President Albert Wolfe will not give out the amount of money in the safe, and Cashier Watson will not discuss the question. The damage done has not been estimated, but the safe is a wreck. The doors are jammed and cannot be opened until an expert is secured.

Professor Wattell was roughly handled and threatened with death if he gave the alarm. When the people attacked the gang he rolled off the sidewalk and lay in the gutter to escape the rain of bullets.

Danville is in Knox county not far from the Coshocton line and has a population of 298. It is divided from Buckeye City by the railroad. There are in that place 247.

TWO MEN CAUGHT?

Rumored Capture of Burglars Near Bladensburg.

DANVILLE, Oct. 15, 2 p. m. (Special)—It is rumored here that two of the gang who attempted to rob the bank this morning have been captured at Bladensburg. Two others are said to be in the woods and will probably be taken before night. The others have escaped. It is believed one of the gang was hit during the fight. He staggered and wanted to surrender but others helped him and he succeeded in gaining a buggy and was driven rapidly away by one of his comrades.

TO PAINT THE JAIL.

Commissioners Yield to Request of Many Grand Juries.

Every grand jury for a number of years has embodied in its report a recommendation that the county jail be painted on the inside, and the commissioners have let the contract for the work to L. J. Tish who has just finished painting the courthouse on the inside. The jail will be completely renovated and made like new.

ATTENDED EVERY FAIR

Remarkable Record of D. A. Barcroft, of Franklin.

WHEN LADIES RODE IN RACES

They All Had a Good Time and People Came From Far and Near—Interesting Reminiscences.

"The last fair was a good fair, but I don't know that we had much more fun than when I went to the first fair ever held in Coshocton county 50 years ago. I have been to every one of them since and feel that fairs have become indispensible with me as they have with the county. I am a friend of the fair."

The speaker was D. A. Barcroft, of Franklin township, and what he said was the truth. He has lived 57 years and during that time he has attended half a hundred fairs, probably the only man in the county who can say it truthfully. Hale and hearty after turning the semi-century mark he recalls with pleasure the days when Coshocton's fair was a struggling institution. Step by step he has followed it until it has become the great holiday time of the year for thousands of people. Mr. Barcroft told the story to an AGE representative and it is entertaining and instructive.

"I was a youngster a little over six years old when I went to the first fair in the county," he continued. "They held it at Jacobsport but what has since become known as Plainfield. There was no high fence to keep out the boys who didn't have a quarter and the people came from far and near to see the display. To my eyes it was the biggest thing on earth. The crowd, the stock and the jolly good time everybody was having were new to me and I shall never forget it. I don't recall that they tested the speed of their horses for money at this first fair, but there were big hogs, sleek cattle and good sheep and everybody enjoyed them. I recall that a Mr. Price who had a name for breeding fine cattle had the biggest steer on exhibition I ever saw. He was a great long-legged fellow with a wide sweep of horns, and everybody talked about him. He was the principal attraction of the fair although they had vegetables and products of the field. The fair was not large when compared with what we have now, but it was a good start and the county was as proud as any city with a big exposition. We all had a good time, and we talked about that fair until the time for the next one rolled around.

"It was different. Jacobsport was too far from the center of the county, and the second fair was held in Coshocton. The fairground was the public square, and a great show they made of it. The people had learned something from the first fair, and there was marked improvement. We had races this year. I remember them very well for the ladies and gentlemen rode on horseback around the block on which the courthouse now stands. They had good horses, and the sport was greatly appreciated by the crowd. How they cheered when some favorite won against a man or woman who happened to be unpopular. The display of cattle was very good, and there were some very big and fat hogs for the people to admire. I don't remember the exhibitors, but I know the Darlings had cattle there, as they have had at almost every fair since, and Sam Moore, of Tuscarawas township, had some good specimens on exhibition. It was a rousing fair, as we looked at fairs in those days, and the people clamored for more. It brought them together as it does today, formed new acquaintances and showed that the county was anxious to exhibit what it had. I remember well the big pumpkins and other things they had, and went home very much impressed with the importance of the fair.

"The next year they moved up on the hill. Ground had been secured and a fence erected. Fairs had grown to be expensive, and the society had to have money. They charged a quarter admission then as they do now, but a quarter in those days was several times the size of a dollar to the country boy. The fair was a success. The crowd was bigger than ever, and the exhibits had grown so that it was necessary to display them on tables. The high fence around the grounds was not popular, but it was well guarded and the boys had to pay or stay at home.

"There were two fairgrounds on the hill, one on the Burt farm and the other on land nearer Hardscrabble. Here they first erected buildings and stalls for horses and cattle. Hogs were always a good product of the county, and I remember when going year after year how I looked at the big fellows. Then we had some fine horses in those days, good stock that attracted attention all over this part of Ohio. It was a pleasure to look at them. There was a regular track, and we had good racing although many a farmer boy in the county owns faster horses these days than those we cheered to victory.

"The fair was gradually getting better and bigger and finally it was moved to the beautiful park out in the southern part of your city. How delighted the people were when we first got into the grove, and how carefully I have followed the growth of the institution since that time. At first the track was bad, then better, and now I guess it's as good as any in Ohio. The halls and stables were built and seats put around trees. Accommodations for sheep and cattle grew better with every year and the people helped it along. The single admission was always a quarter, but during the war they sold family tickets for a dollar. That was a good thing for some people, and it was not uncommon for two or three families in a community to club together and buy a ticket, all going in as one. But the society found it out, and that stopped family tickets.

"It is something remarkable that I have never been sick at fair time, nor has any other thing intervened to keep me away. I have been to every one of them and I am going as long as I live. My interest was not always unselfish for during ten years I exhibited horses and never failed to get a premium. But the Coshocton county fair is an educator, and I believe it should always be maintained. It is something of which we should be proud since it has more than kept pace with the development of the county. When I think of what it was 50 years ago at Jacobsport and what it was last week in Coshocton I am satisfied."

SEVENTEEN BUSHELS

Of Pears Were Taken From One Tree by Allen Finnell.

Allen Finnell, a farmer residing two miles west of Roscoe, has a pear tree that has the record for yielding pears this season. It is a winter pear and Mr. Finnell says he picked 17 bushels of nice pears off the tree last week. Almost every limb of the tree was propped up and a big yield was expected but when it measured 17 bushels everybody was greatly surprised.

HE IS THE PASTOR NOW

Rev. Dr. Hamilton Installed at the Presbyterian Church.

IMPRESSIVE AND INTERESTING

Was the Ceremony in Which a Number of Ministers Took Part—The Music a Pleasing Feature.

Rev. Dr. Wallace M. Hamilton was installed pastor of the First Presbyterian church in the presence of a large congregation Monday evening. The services were impressive and interesting, and the singing of Professor Hosmer was a pleasing feature of the evening.

An adjourned meeting of Zanesville presbytery was held in the church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the business connected with the call of Dr. Hamilton by the Coshocton congregation was wound up.

Rev. Mr. Nesbit, of Frazeysburg, moderator of presbytery, presided at the evening meeting, which was opened by a beautiful anthem by the choir. Rev. Mr. Mechlin, of Keene, read the lesson, that portion of the gospel in which Paul's shipwreck is detailed. A hymn followed, and Rev. Dr. W. H. Hurlbert eloquently prayed for the guidance of pastor and people.

A solo by Professor Hosmer was rendered with all the skill that accomplished singer could command. His voice is flexible and sweet and never before had a Coshocton assemblage heard him sing with such power and beauty of expression. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Mechlin, who delivered the ordination sermon.

The gentleman preached from Acts XXVII, 23, "For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve." He reviewed the experiences of Paul as a messenger of God and dwelt upon the earnestness with which he recived the words of the angel, "Fear not" and communicated them to the terror stricken soldiers and sailors in the ship. Paul was not a fatalist. He not only believed in God's soverignty but he saw the necessity of using the means provided by God to work out his will. He was cheerful while others were sad and gloomy because he was upheld by God. He was equipped for his service by the power of the Holy Ghost. When the close of his life came he had no regret that he had served his Master. He was not sorry because he had been cut off from his people and friends since he was not the only one to enjoy the reward." And so it is with the preacher. The reward for preaching the word of God in this day is sufficient, to say nothing of that eternal reward with the saints in everlasting life."

Rev. Mr. Nesbit explained the business enacted at the meeting of presbytery, and called upon Dr. Hamilton to stand up and answer the questions propounded. The reverend gentlemen responded in low but clear tones, promising to take up his duties as a pastor and do all in his power to promote the glory of God and minister to the needs of the people. The congregation signified their acceptance of him by raising their right hands.

"I now pronounce you duly consecrated pastor of this church," solemnly said the moderator and Rev. Mr. Boyce, of Newark, prayed earnestly that the union so consummated might be productive of great good.

The charge to the pastor followed. It was delivered by Rev. Dr. Hurlburt, of the First Presbyterian church of Cleveland. "You would not be here if you did not believe you had been called of God," said the minister. "You are his ambassador, and he never sends his ambassadors to an inferior court. You are his courrier to carry a royal message to a loyal people, and wherever you go you are to bear the dignity of his court. We are with other men called upon to proclaim truth. We are prophets in that sense of truth telling. We hear many men say 'you are ministers and you must preach your religion whether you believe it or not.' It is a slander that any of us are bound by earthly consideration to preach God's truth. We have found it necessary for our Christian civilization. It is in harmony with all truth. Men must come to it, and it is the business of the ministry to preach the truth. Men may die in sight of food. Their hearts may starve in the presence of truth. It is written all over this world yet millions have died of spiritual starvation. Your message is a message of life. We are dealing with palpatating human hearts, with immortal souls. Consequently you must translate truth into life. That is the business of ministers that men be fed.

"God will call you to do service for him in this community, service that will tax brain and muscle, but from God you will get the power. I express on behalf of presbytery warmest sympathy and predict a course of work that will be a great blessing to this community and the world. And may God bless you and keep you and sustain you through it all to his honor and glory."

Rev. Mr. Boyce gave the charge to the people, and in part said:

"Be faithful in your financial obligations. Take care of the business end of the church. Pay your debts to the church. Support your pastor by your words. Somebody has said the life of a minister can be summed up in three words: 'Idolized, criticized, ostrasized.' Don't criticize him in your homes. He is not perfect. There are no perfect men in the pulpit. One able minister when asked why he left Kansas said he had been butted out. I was aware they used physical force in Kansas, hatchets for instance, but I did not know about this. Yet how easy

TROUBLES AT TAMPA

United States District Attorney Makes His Report.

FINDS THE SITUATION VERY GRAVE.

Resistencia Union Strives to Control Manufacturing and Every Other Line of Business—Deportation of Prominent Agitators of the Strike. Revolt Against Oppression.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 15.—United States District Attorney J. N. Stripling, who has been here several days investigating the labor troubles, especially the recent deportation of Resistencia strike leaders, with a view to adjusting the differences, made his report to the attorney general at Washington. He describes in detail the trouble between the striking cigarmakers and the manufacturers, and declares "the gravity of the situation can scarcely be overstated."

The report reads: "Upon my arrival at Tampa I met a committee and requested their co-operation in ferreting out any violations of the laws of the United States. It was generally admitted that a number of the most prominent agitators of the strike had been compelled to leave Tampa. It was also represented to me that the strikers had themselves compelled a number of their own members to leave on account of the influence they were wielding in favor of a cessation of the strike. I was unable to obtain any direct evidence of violations of the laws of the United States."

The district attorney then deals with the differences between the employers and the men, declaring that strikes have been frequently ordered from "frivolous causes," and charging the purpose of the Resistencia union "seemed to be not only to control manufacturing circles in Tampa, but to control every line of business. The policy of the union was so oppressive and had gone to such an extent until finally, when the strike was declared, it appears that almost every man not connected with the union rose up, declaring that the work of the Resistencia had already gone too far."

Powers Jury Challenged.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 15.—After the jury was completed in the trial of ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers as accessory to the murder of Governor Goebel, the defense challenged the whole jury, charging it with political bias and the officers of the court with packing the jury for the purpose of conviction. Both sides presented affidavits and arguments, after which Judge Cantrill overruled the motion of the defense to disqualify the jury and also a demurrer to the indictment to which the defense took exceptions. Witnesses were then sworn and a list of attorneys on both sides furnished the court. Prosecutor Franklin read the indictment against Powers and Colonel T. C. Campbell stated what the commonwealth expected to prove.

How Czolgosz Fares.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Superintendent Cornelius V. Collins will send a request to Secretary of State Hay to designate an official representative of the government to be present at the electrocution of Leon F. Czolgosz, the murderer of President McKinley. Only 26 witnesses will be present in the chamber of death when the sentence is executed. Czolgosz expresses no fear as to the electrocution, but says that he would not care to go outside of the prison, for he believed that the people would kill him. Since his confinement in Auburn prison several thousand letters have been received for him at the prison as well as a large number of express packages containing flowers and fruit.

A BRAVE COMMANDER

Captain Cook's Estimate of Admiral Schley.

TELLS ABOUT THE LOOP AND FIGHT.

Presentation of Testimony For the Government Concluded and Witnesses For the Applicant Introduced In the Court of Inquiry—Readable Review of the Proceedings.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Judge Advocate Lemly, in the Schley court of inquiry, concluded presentation of testimony for the government, and the first of Admiral Schley's witnesses was introduced. Captain Francis A. Cook, who commanded Admiral (then commodore) Schley's flagship, the Brooklyn, during the Santiago campaign, and who acted in the capacity of chief of staff for the commodore, was on the witness stand the greater part of the day. He was followed by Lieutenant Commander William Fullam, who was senior watch officer on the New Orleans during the Spanish war, and former Lieutenant Joseph Beal, who, as an officer on the Harvard, translated the cipher dispatches between Commodore Schley and the navy department carried by that vessel. Among these dispatches was that sent by Commodore Schley May 28, expressing his regret at having been unable to obey the orders of the department, and explaining the reason why he could not do so. There are some verbal discrepancies between the original draft of this dispatch and the official print of it, and these Mr. Beal explained.

Captain Cook's testimony was a review of the entire campaign after Cervera's fleet, beginning with the departure of the flying squadron from Key West on May 19 and concluding with the battle off Santiago July 3. He said that at first it had been believed by both Sampson and Schley that the Spanish fleet was in the harbor at Cienfuegos, and that nothing to the contrary had been conveyed to Commodore Schley until the arrival of Captain McCalla on May 24; that it was Commodore Schley's expectation to meet the Spanish in the open sea, and his constant care was to have coal enough for such emergency. He gave particulars concerning the retrograde movement, and explained the Brooklyn's loop in connection with a graphic account of the engagement of July 3. Asked for an opinion as to Admiral Schley's bearing as a commanding officer, he said: "I always regarded him as an enthusiastically brave and patriotic officer."

Describing the battle, Captain Cook said that Commodore Schley did give the order "hard a-port" whereby the Brooklyn made her famous loop, but that he (Cook) had already given it, and that at the time the commodore gave it the helm was then a-port. He asserted that the possibility of a collision with the Texas never entered his head. He thought the Brooklyn crossed the bows of the Texas at about 400 yards distance. The nearest position of the Brooklyn to the Spanish ships he put at from 1,500 to 2,000 yards. Asked if he considered then that the Brooklyn was in danger of being rammed, Captain Cook said: "No, they couldn't ram us unless they got within our tactical diameter, 650 yards." Captain Cook said that at one time the Brooklyn was engaged alone with three Spanish ships. This was after the turn, when the Brooklyn had got on a parallel course with the Spaniards.

Captain Cook next described the difficulty of coaling in the running sea off Santiago. The Brooklyn did not have full steam power during the fight of July 3, because an order required the keeping up of steam for moving eight or nine knots with some engines coupled.

Devastation by Floods.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The navy department has received a report from the United States ship Helena regarding the devastation by flood of the Yang-Tse valley above Nanking, China. The water reached the highest point in 50 years. The devastation was widespread, the flood wiping out old villages and sweeping away the lightly constructed farmhouses. The extensive crops of corn, rice and beans have been too long covered by the water to survive, scarcely any live stock remains, and famine stares the people in the face. The loss of life was very great.

Charges Against Tilley.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans left here for San Francisco, whence he will accompany Rear Admiral Casey, commanding the Pacific station, on the flagship Wisconsin to Tutuila, Samoa. Admiral Casey is charged with the investigation of certain allegations made by missionaries in Samoa against the moral character of Captain B. F. Tilley, naval governor of Tutuila. In case it should be found necessary to order a naval court Captain Tilley will be appointed president of the court.

A Lieutenant Killed.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Adjutant General Corbin received a cable message from General Chaffee, at Manilla, saying that Second Lieutenant James C. Williams of the Twenty-first infantry fell off a train at Tarlac and was instantly killed. Lieutenant Williams was a son of the late General R. Williams, formerly adjutant general of the army, who died a few weeks ago. Young Williams was born in Kansas.

Conditions at Cape Town.

Cape Town, Oct. 15.—No passengers are allowed to sail from Cape ports without military permits. Four additional squadrons of colonial troops are enlisting for active service.

TEST VOTE

On Proposed Canon Prohibiting Marriage of Divorced Persons.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal church of America, sitting as a committee of the whole, adopted the proposed canon prohibiting the remarriage of divorced persons for causes not arising previous to their former marriage. The canon was adopted just as it came from the house of bishops. The vote stood 182 for, 156 against. The amendment of Dr. Huntington of New York, making an exception in the case of the innocent party of a divorce granted on the ground of adultery, was rejected by a vote of 158 to 173. The result of the vote in the committee of the whole was reported to the house of deputies, who will vote on the matter.

Lutheran Conference.

Lima, O., Oct. 15.—The report of the committee on the India mission difficulties, presented by Dr. Horn, was the storm center in the Lutheran conference, but after a spirited discussion the judgment of the committee was so evidently correct that the council unanimously accepted the report, which recommends the approval of the board's securing the title to its several properties in India, also their changes in the rules governing the missionary, Rev. Dr. Schmidt, who has served 34 years, and also the employment of an eminent and experienced pastor from America as a resident advisory missionary.

Broad and Sullivan.

Buffalo, Oct. 15. — Kid Broad and Dave Sullivan fought a 20-round draw in the arena of the International Athletic club at Fort Erie. It was their fifth encounter in the ring, and though opening slowly, it finished as fast as could well be desired. During the early stages of the fight Sullivan was often hammering around Broad's body with stinging smashes and heavy swings, but the Kid was sturdy and did not weaken or display any signal of distress. In the last half dozen rounds Broad began to rock Sullivan's head with hard drives, and in the eighteenth and nineteenth rounds had his man groggy and in a very bad way. In the closing round Sullivan picked up wonderfully.

Cuban Election Law.

Havana, Oct. 15.—Governor General Wood promulgated the election law today. Several changes have been made in the draft that was adopted by the constitutional convention. The provision making it necessary for uninscribed Spaniards to secure from the secretary of state a document showing themselves eligible to vote has been stricken out, as it was considerd in conflict with article 9 of the treaty of Paris, as well as a discrimination against Spaniards desiring to become citizens. Now such Spaniards will register just as native Cubans.

Mysterious Affair.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 15.—The mystery surrounding the instant killing of Superintendent John T. O'Brien at the Richmond locomotive works became intensified when it developed that hardly a minute before he was shot through the heart Many Parker, one of his machinists, who was standing about 15 feet behind him, was shot in the back of the head. Parker is at his home. It seems a miracle that both men were not killed. Parker can not imagine how it was done or by whom.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

Meridian, Miss., Oct. 15. — Passenger train No. 2 on the Alabama and Vicksburg road was wrecked in the yards here by running into six coal cars. Steve Lowe, a negro, was scalded to death. W. E. Booker, a traveling man of Des Moines, had his left shoulder dislocated and is otherwise badly bruised. S. Horton, the engineer; Hugh Wilkins, baggageman; Dunham Smith, postal clerk; Miss Light Haines of Vicksburg and Clint Vaughn, the negro porter, are injured.

Grace, Finish, Style

There are some new Overcoats here which we would especially like to show to men who have patronized none but the better tailors. A recent arrival is the distinctly new Chesterfield Overcoat, made with vertrole pockets, 48 inches long, magnificently tailored and very fashionable.

These run from $10 to $20.

Fire at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 15.—A fire occurred on Camp street in which the large furniture store of the Union company was destroyed and the Teutonic Insurance company building ruined. The furniture store belonged to Tulane university. The total loss is $100,000.

Merchant Missing.

Milwaukee, Oct. 15.—Anton Stollenwerk, a business man of this city, is missing, and friends fear he has been foully dealt with. He left for St. Louis Oct. 1, intending to negotiate for timber lands, and expected to return the next Sunday.

An Anarchist's End.

London, Oct. 15.—"Romas, the leader of the notorious band of anarchists who have destroyed various public and other buildings during the last few months," says a dispatch from Cracow, "was arrested in Stanislavow, eastern Galicia, after a severe struggle, in which he and a gendarme were wounded and a child was accidentally killed. Romas hanged himself in the guardhouse."

A Treacherous Blaze.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—One man lost his life, three persons narrowly escaped suffocation and a score or more guests of the Garden City hotel were rescued from upper floors by firemen in a treacherous blaze in that hotel. The dead man is Levi Whitman, a resident of Indiana, whose body was found after the fire had been extinguished in a court to the rear of the building. Whitman leaped from a third story window in an effort to escape. The loss to the hotel was small.

Cashier Indicted.

Brownsville, Tenn., Oct. 15.—P. H. Anderson, late cashier of the Haywood County bank, which failed several days ago, was indicted on two counts by the grand jury. The indictments charge the willful and felonious receiving of deposits after having reason to know of the bank's insolvency. The liabilities of the bank are estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000. Only about $500 in cash was found in the bank's vaults after the failure.

American Enterprise In Russia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—American enterprise in Russia has culminated in a proposition to the city of St. Petersburg to take over the entire tramway system under a 25-year contract, to relay and extend in all directions electric instead of horse tramways, and to build a substantial bridge over the Neva to replace the present wooden structure. The necessary capital, 100,000,000 roubles, will be raised in the United States.

Held For Murder.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 15.—Henry Gill of the Royal engineers is a prisoner in the provincial jail, charged with the murder of Gunner Clinnick of the Royal artillery. Gill, who is but 20 years old, borrowed a rifle on some pretense, and, going to the canteen, fired a shot which struck Clinnick under the chin, killing him instantly. Gill said he intended the shot for another man.

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves losing go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Restless mornings.
Morning languor.
Brain fag.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.

Siberia a Land of Destiny.

From the dawn of creation up to the present time Siberia has been waiting even as North America waited through the ages for the states that were to arise within its boundaries. In 1888 its real colonization began, when 26,000 immigrants crossed its frontiers. Now there are more than 250,000 annually. While excluding undesirable persons, the government adopts generous measures toward worthy immigrants. To every family, when desired, it advances $25 for the expenses of the journey, assigns gratuitously forty acres to each man on his arrival and further promises to assist with a loan of $50. The only great landlord is the emperor or the state.—National Geographic Magazine.

Women Pastors.

There are now about thirty women pastors of Unitarian churches in the United States. The last addition to their ranks is Miss Estella R. Padgham of Syracuse, who has just been ordained in that city, the ordination sermon being preached by a woman, the Rev. Marie H. Jenney of Des Moines, Ia., who two years ago was ordained in the same church. Miss Padgham is a Smith college graduate and pursued her theological course at the theological seminary in Meadville, Pa. During the summer she officiated for Miss Jenney in Des Moines and while engaged in ministerial work there received a call to Perry, Pa. She will enter upon her duties at once.

Boy Preachers.

The Christian Intelligencer protests against the "boy preachers" who have become so prevalent of late. It holds that "the great and responsible work of preaching the gospel of Christ requires a preparation which no boy at the age of nine or twelve or fifteen is capable of acquiring. If a Christian youth feels himself strongly drawn to the work, his friends will advise him to wait till he has outgrown his boyhood and to quietly and diligently and thoroughly qualify himself for preaching before undertaking it publicly. The very thing encouraged in these boy preachers accounts in some measure for the religious superficiality that marks the present."

Not a Good Shot.

So much has been written about President Roosevelt's experiences as a huntsman that one generally thinks of him as an expert shot. But he is not, by his own admission.

"My eyes are bad," he said recently, "and my hand is not steady. I can never hope to be a very fine shot."

Yet he takes pride in having killed about every sort of wild beast known on the plains, for he shoots just as well at a fierce animal as at a target.—New York Times.

Fatality In Ciphers.

W. H Harrison was elected in 1840 and died soon after taking his seat. Lincoln was elected in 1860 and afterward re-elected and assassinated. Garfield was elected in 1880 and assassinated five months after his inauguration. McKinley was re-elected in 1900 and was assassinated. Thomas Jefferson, elected in 1800, and James Monroe, in 1820, were the only two who escaped the fatality of the cipher years.—St. Paul Globe.

He PREFERS PEACE,

But Is Ready For a Fight With Colombia.

VENEZUELA'S PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Awaiting the Colombian Government's Answer to His Recent Communication—Two Lines of Armed Men Maintained on the Frontier—Uncle Sam Talked of as Mediator.

La Guayra, Ven., Oct. 15.—The following statement regarding the Venezuelan-Colombian controversy has been made by General Castro, president of Venezuela:

"I earnestly desire peace between Colombia and Venezula, but I consider that, by reason of the Venezuelan memorandum and our requests, communicated diplomatically through Dr. Rice (Colombian minister to Venezuela) for an explanation of the invasion of Tachira in July by Colombian troops, Venezuela has taken the first step toward a peaceful settlement. It would be against the national dignity and honor of Venezuela to take another step in this direction until an explanatory answer has been received. The invasion of Tachira was the first openly aggressive act in this trouble. It was the act of Colombia, and therefore she should follow up our initiative toward a peaceful settlement.

"While awaiting Colombia's answer, we most decidedly can not, directly or indirectly, approach Colombia again in a conciliatory manner. Meantime, we shall continue to guard our frontier against invasion. If Colombia does not answer, difficulties will doubtless arise. With the two lines of armed men face to face on the frontier this is to be expected. I sympathize with the Colombian liberals, who are revolting against the conservative government of Colombia."

The feeling is growing in Caracas, especially in official circles, that the mediation of a third party will eventually be required, and that the United States government is logically the best qualified to act.

Miss Stone's Abduction.

Vienna, Oct. 15. — Todaroff, the driver, who accompanied Miss Stone when she was kidnaped, has arrived in Sofia. He says her captors are Turks. The Bulgarian police, who are not satisfied with his statements, are keeping him under surveillance. It is announced from Bucharest that Herr Rosenthal, the representative of a German firm, has been kidnaped by Bulgarian brigands at Silistriam. The Roumanian government has sent a protest to Sofia and the Bulgarian government has ordered troops to pursue the brigands. It is rumored that the Macedonian committee has decided to capture every foreigner within reach in order to attract European attention to the bad state of public security in Macedonia.

Crisis In Austria.

Vienna, Oct. 15.—There are fears of a serious economic crisis. The worst sign is the fact that the largest industrial undertakings in all branches hve been compelled to resort to considerable reductions of establishment. The reasons given are the keen German competition and the withdrawal of credit owing to loss of confidence through the maladministration of large joint stock concerns. Dr. Von Korber, the premier, promised the president of the Vienna chamber of commerce that orders would be placed for large public works and that all available means would be employed to assist the suffering industries.

Run On a Bank.

Buffalo, Oct. 15.—A run on the Fidelity Trust company, a state banking institution, was begun by a long line of anxious depositors, who stood for hours waiting to withdraw their money. Prominent bankers and business men say that the rumor which caused the run is groundless, and that only small depositors are withdrawing their accounts. Several large deposits were made during the day by business houses, and large sums of money were sent to the Fidelity company's offices by local banks. At the close of business President Forman stated that the withdrawals exceeded the deposits by only $50,000.

Barge Adrift.

Bayfield, Wis., Oct. 15.—During a heavy gale the barge Donaldson parted its line from the steamer Tuttle, which had her in tow. The Tuttle, Captain King, with barges Kingfisher and Donaldson, were bound from Ashland to Cleveland with lumber, and lost the Donaldson and her crew of seven men about 30 miles from here. The Tuttle returned here for better weather and left later with the tug Reynolds in search of the lost barge.

Town Burned Out.

St. Joseph, Mich., Oct. 15.—The town of Galif, in the southern part of this county, was practically wiped out by fire that started in a laundry. Only a few store buildings remain. The entire population turned out with a bucket brigade and finally checked the flames. The E. A. Blakeslee general store, postoffice and two grocery stores and one hardware store were burned. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Bank Stormed by Burglars.

Pinconning, Mich., Oct. 15.—The Farmers' bank of this village was attacked by a party of five burglars at an early hour. The outside door was blown off and the force of the explosion was so great that it hurled the door through the front of the building. The explosion aroused the village and the burglars were frightened away before they could force the steel money box, which contained between $3,000 and $5,000.

TWAIN AT YACHT RACE

But He Got Never a Glimpse of the Big Sloops.

INSISTED ON NOT BEING FOOLED.

The Humorist and His Pastor Were the Guests of H. H. Rogers—Mark Mistook Two Oyster Boats For the Racers and Refused to Be Set Right.

Mark Twain attended one of the international yacht races off Sandy Hook as a guest of H. H. Rogers, the Standard Oil magnate, aboard the steam yacht Kanawha. He had his umbrella put in a locker as soon as he went on board, says the New York Sun, and he carried along with him his pastor, the Rev. Joseph Twichell of Hartford, to protect him against a repetition of the jobs that were put up on him last July by Tom Reed and Mr. Rogers off the coast of Nova Scotia.

On the way down to the starting line the Rev. Mr. Twichell neglected Mark for a little while and told stories in the cabin. In the meantime young Harry Rogers, Jr., got hold of Mr. Twain outside on the deck and pointed out two oyster sloops that had come down to the race and told him that they were the Shamrock and the Columbia. They were the sloops Shame of the Sea and Collusion. Mark looked at them through a pair of opera glasses he had brought from home and saw enough of the first letters of their names to convince him that somebody aboard the Kanawha had told him the truth. Just then the get ready gun was fired, and the two sloops happened to head for the first mark together. Mark saw them and paid no attention to the big racers that were jockeying for position.

"Come, Joseph," he said to Mr. Twichell; "the race is on. Sit by me."

Mr. Twichell sat down on a wicker settee beside his friend, and Mr. Rogers threw a rug over the slippers and the gaiters. Then the real race began in earnest. Neither Mr. Clemens nor Mr. Twichell could see the yachts, but they had a great vantage point for watching the sloops.

"Come farther aft, Mark, and see them off on the first leg," said Mr. Rogers.

"No, you don't," replied Mark. "You can't gas me on this voyage. That boy of yours forgot himself and told me the truth. Brother Joseph and I have got the yachts right here. I think we've got them on the weather beam, but we've got them, and we'll keep a line on them. If you and the other gentlemen will draw up your chairs around Mr. Twichell and myself, we'll discuss this great international contest on its merits. But there's to be no joking."

Then Mark pointed to the Shame of the Sea and asked Mr. Rogers if she wasn't gaining a trifle on the Collusion. Mr. Rogers went aft and watched the race with the other guests until the yachts finished the first ten miles of the course and turned the first mark. Lunch was served immediately after that, and Mr. Clemens and Mr. Twichell were urged to come into the cabin. Mark wouldn't budge until he was assured that apple dumplings, Mississippi, had been specially prepared for him. Then he squinted over the rail and marked the spots with which the oyster sloops seemed to be in range with pin heads. That, he explained, was so they would be able to tell after lunch if either yacht had gained.

The apple dumplings were served with hard sauce and soft sauce. Mark Twain ate seven and had both kinds of sauce on each. It is only fair to report that he took nothing else save a trifle of soup, a stuffed crab, a brace of chops, a small bird and a round rosy apple. Later he sneaked into the galley and finished the batch of dumplings before the Shamrock had finished her second tack on the beat to windward. But that trip to the pantry wasn't until after Mark had decided that the race was all over.

After the lunch proper Mr. Clemens and Mr. Twichell returned to their settee, but the Kanawha had changed her course, and the oyster sloops were no longer on the side of the pin marks. Twain accused Sidney Chase of Boston of changing his bearings and then swept the seas with his opera glasses to find Shame and Collusion again. He got them in range just as they were huddled close together and being shooed out of the triangle by a patrol boat.

"Look, Joseph!" he exclaimed to his pastor. "See how close they are now. It is nip and tuck or neck and neck. You could throw a dumpling from the Shamrock to the Columbia."

"You mean a biscuit, Brother Samuel," corrected Mr. Twichell.

"No, Brother Joseph, I mean a dumpling. I want you to get out of the rut of thinking that nothing under heaven but a biscuit can be thrown from one vessel to another. I repeat that you could throw a dumpling, an apple dumpling, from the Columbia to the Shamrock. But 'twould be an unnecessary risk."

After the patrol boat had got through with them the men on the oyster sloops gave up sightseeing and headed for Jamaica bay just abreast of each other. Mr. Clemens offered to bet 75 cents that the one he thought was the Shamrock would win. Mr Twichell whispered something to him, and there was apparently no bet. It couldn't have been decided anyway, for the sloops disappeared, still abreast, and Mark and the minister retired to the cabin to talk about Hartford. When all hands urged them to come out ten minutes later and see the finish of the real race, Mr. Clemens again declared his determination to get home without being fooled by anybody.

WAS LIPTON THROWN?

Views of John R. Spears, a Noted Yachting Expert.

HINTS SHAMROCK WAS "PULLED."

The Challenger, Says Mr. Spears, Was Either Held Back or Lost Through Blunders Wholly Inexcusable—Jameson, Who Was In Control, Said to Have Been Angry Because His Wife Was Not Permitted Aboard During Races.

John R. Spears, a recognized expert authority on yachting matters, writes as follows in the New York World regarding the final race in the contest of the Shamrock II. and the Columbia for the possession of the America's cup:

The challenger has been defeated in three straight races, as was her predecessor, Shamrock I. The cup has been saved.

But it is exceedingly depressing to see that, while Columbia was a safe defender, such an admirable sportsman as Sir Thomas Lipton did not have a fair run for his money.

In the last race Shamrock was either "pulled" or she lost through blunders inexcusable in an apprentice of the third class.

Here are certain statements of fact well worth consideration:

Because of the lay of the wind the racers were started down wind, neck and neck, and Shamrock led the way at the turn by forty-nine seconds.

At two different points in the windward work for the home line Shamrock was more than a minute away, directly out on the weather bow of Columbia, and yet on each occasion she split tacks and stood away from the defender, thus throwing away all the advantage she had previously gained by superior speed in the conditions of wind and sea then prevailing.

There is probably not one amateur yacht captain in the New York Yacht club so foolish as to let a rival get out from under him in that way, and certainly there is not a racing skipper anywhere in the United States who would do it.

Mr. Willie Jameson had "absolute control," to use the words of Sir Thomas Lipton, of the Shamrock in these races.

The wife of Mr. Jameson came over to this country expecting to sail on the Shamrock as a "mascot," just as Mrs. Morgan has sailed at least one (the first) race with the commodore, but Sir Thomas refused to allow any woman on the Shamrock in the races.

Mrs. Jameson was very greatly vexed by this refusal, and Mr. Jameson was also very angry because of it.

Mrs. Jameson told several of her friends before the races that she expected to sail on board the Shamrock.

In the race on Tuesday, Oct. 3 (the fluke), wherein the Shamrock crossed the line ahead of the gun, Captain Sycamore desired to veer off parallel with the line until the gun was fired and so save the necessity of turning back. Mr. Jameson, as I learn on undisputed authority, told Captain Sycamore to hold up for the line. Captain Sycamore protested, and then Mr. Jameson, using the "absolute authority" given him, compelled the captain to cross ahead of the gun.

Mr. Jameson was also responsible when the Shamrock luffed across the lee end of the line that day, after being called, instead of wearing around and crossing the windward end, where she would have been as well placed as the Columbia.

On Tuesday this evil work was of no consequence, because the race was not finished.

The evil work of the last day lost the Shamrock more than a minute on each occasion.

One of those lost minutes would have given the race to the Shamrock.

THEY BRIGHTEN A TOWN.

New York Village Rejuvenated by Presence of Cuban Teachers.

The appearance of the Cuban teachers who are being educated at the State Normal school at New Paltz by the United States government, says a dispatch from that place, has made a decided change in the appearance of and put new life into the quiet old Huguenot village.

There are now about sixty Cubans at New Paltz, and while they have been here but a few weeks it has been long enough for interested observers to make a study of them. The girls are plentifully supplied with money, which they spend with a free hand.

New Paltz considers they have as much responsibility so far as the future of Cuba is concerned as all the rest of the country put together, for the Cubans who are now being trained here are to teach the Cuban youth and give them their impressions of American institutions.

Several of the houses in the village are now being fitted up with modern conveniences for the occupancy of the Cubans. Their presence at the different houses where they are boarding is indicated by the Cuban flag.

In Memory of Her Father.

Mrs. Eliza A. How, widow of James F. How, late president of the Wabash Railroad company, has given $100,000 to Washington university, St. Louis, to be used for the erection of a memorial to her father, Captain James B. Eads, who built the Eads bridge across the Mississippi river at St. Louis and the jetties below New Orleans. The gift has been accepted by the board of trustees of the university, who will confer with Mrs. How as to the character of memorial which shall be constructed.

BACK TAXES RECOVERED.

The Sherman Estate May Be Compelled to Pay Up.

Ohio News.

Mansfield, O., Oct. 15.—County Auditor Fritz has placed on the tax duplicate against the estate of the late Senator John Sherman taxes and penalties aggregating $300,000 on personal property valued at $1,400,000, which, it is alleged, Mr. Sherman did not return for the five years 1896 to 1900, inclusive and which was not returned by the executors of his will the present year. The alleged unassessed property is supposed to consist largely of gilt-edged bonds and other securities, some of which are said to be quoted at 12 per cent premium. It is announced that suit will be filed immediately.

Widow Witwer Held.

Dayton, O., Oct. 15.—The police have filed a formal charge of murder in the first degree against Mrs. Mary Belle Witwer, the suspected wholesale murderess, who has included in her alleged list of victims four husbands and children of her own flesh and blood. The affidavit was sworn to by Chief of Detectives Frank McBride, and is based on the death of Mrs. Anna C. Pugh, a sister of the accused. It is charged that death was due to the administration of arsenic willfully and purposely by Mrs. Witwer. The affidavit is based wholly on circumstantial evidence. The expert chemist has not yet made his report.

Fatal Explosion.

Lima, O., Oct. 15.—An explosion occurred at the Buckeye Pipe Line company's pumping station, located about a mile east of the city. John Harley, telegraph operator, was instantly killed, and Frank Kane, engineer, fatally injured. The accident was caused by the compressed air tank, used to start the gas engine, exploding. John Strow, an oil well pumper, at about the same hour was caught in the engine and fatally mangled.

Ohio Corporation.

Dover, Del., Oct. 15.—A certificate of incorporation was filed with the secretary of state for the Bulling Coal company of Bellaire, O., capital stock $50,000.

Speaker Squelched.

London, Oct. 15. — John O'Donnell (Nationalist) attempted to address his constituents in Kilmaine, County of Mayo, the scene of recent evictions. He was dragged off the platform five times by the police and finally, after a fierce struggle, was taken to the barracks. One hundred and fifty police were present during the meeting. The crowd hurled stones, and several persons were injured. John O'Donnell is a young tenant farmer and a protege of William O'Brien, M. P. He is secretary of the United Irish league and was first returned to the house of commons for South Mayo in February, 1900, succeeding Michael Davitt.

Miners Fired On.

Earlington, Ky., Oct. 15. — Men camped near Providence, in Webster county, who recently moved from Madisonville, attacked the Providence mines. Many shots were exchanged. The men were driven off. No guards were wounded. The sheriff has gone to the camp with warrants. Manager Nesbit of the Providence company was also fired upon. Sympathizers with the strikers visited the employes' houses and warned them that they must quit work. Unknown persons fired into the house of an employe and wounded two men.

Chile's New Minister.

New York, Oct. 15.—Senor Don Joaquin Walker Martinez, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the republic of Chile to the United States, who was recently appointed to succeed the late Senor Don Carlos M. Vicuna, who died at Buffalo, was a passenger on the steamship Orinoba, which arrived from Colon. Senor Martinez is accompanied by his family and staff. They will proceed direct to Washington and thence to Mexico, where Senor Martinez will represent his country at the pan-American congress.

A Russian Move.

Vienna Oct. 15.—A conference will shortly be held in Belgrade of the diplomatic representatives of Servia, Bulgaria and Montenegro, and a Russian minister will be present. It is believed here that the conference is a Russian move toward the formation of a definite Balkan dreibund.

Poisoned Himself.

Kansas City, Oct. 15.—Thomas Gleason of Taylor, Tex., died here as the result of poison taken with suicidal intent. He was a civil war veteran and was on his way to the soldiers' home at Leavenworth.

Encourage him. If he preaches a good sermon tell him so. Someone will take the conceit out of him in a day or two. Be faithful in attendance. His message will be the Lord's. He has it to deliver, not to change. The man who like a spider spins a message from himself will give you a poor discourse. Give him your sympathy. It don't require brains to find fault. 'One kiss made me a painter,' said Benjamin West. One word of encouragement has done great things for a pastor. Hold up his hands. May God bless and keep you and grant that this happy union be an edification of saints and conversion of sinners, that you may see God showing strength because the people have the will to work with their pastor."

After a prayer by the moderator and the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," Rev. Dr. Hamilton pronounced the benediction. The people then greeted him warmly and a season of handshaking followed.

Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton will be tendered a reception in the church this evening.

KEEPING STREETS CLEAN.

They Do It Economically and Well in the Northwest.

J. F. Meek is home from St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago where in addition to his business he carefully studied the methods of street cleaning and incidentally noted that asphalt is in favor for paving purposes in the Northwest.

"Many miles of streets in Minneapolis and St. Paul are paved with asphalt," said Mr. Meek, "and they keep it well cleaned. During the day it is swept and scraped and at night they flush it, and an army is not required to do the work. The hose is placed on low rollers about five feet apart and the labor of handling it is reduced to the minimum, two men doing the work well. The asphalt is kept clean and always looks well. When a hole appears it is repaired at once and the streets are in good condition. I noticed that in the business part of Chicago they are taking up the heavy granite blocks and putting down sheet asphalt. To my mind this demonstrates that up to date towns are using asphalt because it is smooth, can be cleaned for little money, is less dusty, not so noisy and more sanitary. This makes it particularly valuable for residence streets, and if Coshocton is going to pave much next year it certainly would pay to consider asphalt.

"The presence of so much asphalt paving in the Northwest disproves the claim that it cannot stand heat and cold. Frost goes down deep every year, and no cities suffered more from hot blasts last summer than did Minneapolis and St. Paul. Yet the asphalt streets are in the cream of condition."

It is said Watterson hopes to carry Kentucky in 1903 with a view to being the Democratic candidate for president in 1904. A man close to Watterson said: "He has not announced that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination, but for some time his friends have been urging him to make the race."

DEPEW TO BE MARRIED

New York Senator at Last Surrenders to Cupid.

BRIDE YOUNG AND BEAUTIFUL.

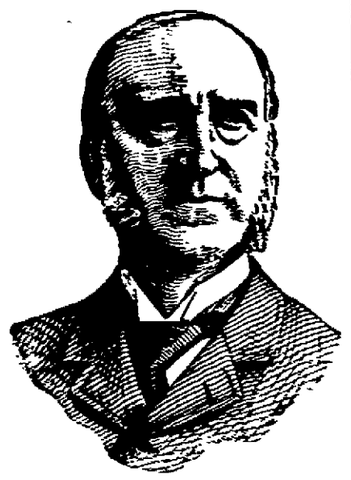

She Is Miss May Palmer, a Native of New York and Belongs to a Prominent Family — Was Educated Abroad, but Lately Returned to the American Metropolis.

At last Senator Chauncey M. Depew has surrendered to Cupid, says the New York Herald. Before many months have passed he will lead a bride to the altar. His fiancee, Miss May Palmer, who, although of an old New York family, is little known in the city, as she has lived abroad for years.

With all becoming modesty the eloquent senator admitted the truth. He said:

"It is true that I am to be married again. The lady who has honored me by agreeing to become my wife is Miss Palmer, whom I have known for years."

On this subject, the one which it would be supposed might enlist all his wonderful eloquence, the senator had little to say, nor did he make it a topic for one of those merry jests which have kept after dinner assemblages in roars. The man for whom Dame Rumor has selected wife after wife, and always erroneously, was in serious mood as he spoke of his matrimonial venture.

Never before has he been so uncommunicative. When denials were necessary, he had talked freely, as, for instance, when gossip announced his engagement to Miss Edith Collins, his ward.

But beyond acknowledging that this time there was no error, he would say little, other than that his bride to be is the daughter of Henry Palmer, that she was born in her father's home in Fifth avenue, New York, and that she had lived abroad—in France and Italy—most of the time.

She is in New York now and is at the Waldorf-Astoria. She came to this country on Sept. 17, accompanied by her sister, Mme. von Andre.

That she is a beautiful woman may be imagined when it is said her mother was one of the three Hermann sisters of New Orleans, who were beauties famous the whole country over more than a generation ago. Educated abroad, she is highly accomplished, and as a cultured musician she has earned the praise of masters.

When Senator Depew was about to sail for Europe last June, it was reported that he intended to marry a widow who lived abroad. At that time he said:

"I expect to go abroad, but I do not expect to be married this summer."

About the same time when asked what qualifications he would desire in the woman whom he would make his wife he answered:

"Seriously in my case, being a public man, my wife would have to be handsome. Then she would have to be attractive, for she would have to represent me at the head of my table. I would also want her to be a woman who could win the men I could not reach. Mrs. Logan was such a woman. She did much to make John A. Logan.

"Besides this, I should like to have my wife fond of her dressing gown and slippers and to spend her evenings at home. As to her age, she can be anywhere from twenty-five to seventy-five. You see, I am liberal as to age. Youth is not always the most necessary requisite in a bride."

Miss Palmer's paternal grandfather was John Palmer, who founded and was first president of the Merchants' bank of New York.

Miss Palmer speaks French, German and Italian with the same fluency as she does English. She has inherited the beauty of her mother and is a most charming young woman.

Of the three beautiful Hermann sisters one was married to a Mr. Payton of Virginia, one is the mother of Miss Palmer and the third one became the wife of Hall McAllister, a noted California lawyer and a brother of Ward McAllister. Mrs. McAllister is the mother of the wife of Representative Newlands of Nevada, renowned in Washington society for her beauty and accomplishments.

Through her aunt on her father's side Miss Palmer is related to several prominent New York families. One of her father's sisters was married to the elder of the two Oelrichs brothers, one of whom is the father of Hermann and Charles Oelrichs and Mrs. William Jay. Another aunt was married to Hermann Le Roy of the prominent New York family of that name, while a third was married to Henry May, a relative of the late Mrs. William C. Whitney.

A DISSERTATION ON STOVES.

There are people who never have good bread but they don't use the Peninsular Range. Women of course do their part and can bake lovely bread if they only had the Peninsular. But that is neither here nor there. If you are disgusted with the old stove come in and let us sell you the best the market can afford.

The Peninsular has double walls of steel lined with pure asbestos.

The Peninsular Steel Ranges are hand riveted every two inches with steeple head rivets.

The Peninsular has no paint or japan to burn off.

Requires no blacking.

Peninsular Steel Ranges give 50 per cent more oven capacity, baking on oven rack and oven bottom at same time.

UMBRELLA DEDUCTIONS.

Human Characteristics Shown In the Ways of Carrying Them.

The man who sat nearest the window said he didn't mind the wet weather. "It gives me a chance to see how people carry their umbrellas," he said. "I have such firm faith in my deductions that I wouldn't be afraid to choose a wife with them for a guide."

"I'm glad I'm not out there in the street," she said. "You'd be picking out all the kinks in my disposition along with the rest of them."

"Oh," said the man, "I sized you up a long time ago. You carry an umbrella, when it's furled, like that woman across the street. You grab it in the middle and go forging ahead with the ends of the handle digging into the unfortunate pedestrians who go before and follow after."

"And what does that signify?" asked the woman on the left.

"Alertness, activity, selfishness and inconsiderateness."

"Um-m," said the woman.

"But just look at the third woman in the procession," said the man. "I pity the men folks about her house. I'll warrant they have to get their own breakfast about six mornings out of the seven. I never saw yet a woman who dragged her umbrella along so that you could track her by the trail of the tip who wasn't dilatory and shiftless. She never sews on a button or darns or mends, and her breakfast dishes are seldom washed before 2 o'clock.

"That other woman who is bustling along holding to the top of the umbrella handle like grim death and pointing the top down and forward in a kind of south by southwesterly direction is altogether different. She would set the world on fire if it wasn't waterlogged. I am not sure that I'd want to be married to her either. She'd be too energetic. She'd push everything before her, and when she took a notion to clean things up a mere man would have nowhere to lay his head. What she is good for is serving on committees.

"That woman in the gray skirt is a yea and nay sort of person. She wants to agree with everybody and follows wherever led. Women who carry their umbrellas with point backward and downward are always unassertive.

"But just look at that girl who spins along, swinging her umbrella around in a circle as if it were a magic wand. I like her. She's jolly and good natured and gets more enjoyment out of life than ten ordinary people. There's a woman carrying her umbrella swung over her shoulder like a shotgun. She's a true soldier of fortune and was never known to say die. I can't think of anything that would faze her."

The man paused.

"And what would you say," asked the woman, "about that girl who carries her umbrella horizontally across the small of her back and catches either end into the crook of her elbow?"

"Well," admitted the man, "she is a new one on me. I never met her before, but I wouldn't be afraid to wager that she is conscientious to a degree and has a heart as big as all outdoors. But here," he added, "comes the most even tempered woman of the lot. She cuddles her umbrella protectingly under her arm as if she doesn't want even it to get hurt in the crowd. That woman is gentle and thoughtful and kind."—Kansas City Journal.

A Skin Sewing Machine.

A sewing machine for the skin is a recent French notion. It was exhibited by Dr. Paul Michel at the late congress of medicine and is of course intended for the use of surgeons. The instrument is quite small, easily held in the hands and has received the Barbier prize of the Faculte de Medicine. In future a surgeon need not slowly stitch the edges of a wound. With the left hand he keeps the two lips together, and with the right he fastens it by means of little clasps or "agrafas" of nickel having points which penetrate only the epidermis and are not painful.

Destructive Fire.

Beaumont, Tex., Oct. 15.—Fire was discovered burning fiercely in a general store near the Southern Pacific depot. It was 10 minutes before the alarm could be made effective. The flames spread rapidly through the whole block, including the McFadden block. Houston was telegraphed for aid. The probable loss is $100,000.

Coats of Character

cannot be made from material that has none. All wool in Wooltex means all cotton out of it. Not a thread, not a shred of aught but chemically proven, well woven woolen cloth enters into any part of any garment. And the tailoring is as good as the material. Seams will not rip or stretch any way. Garments will retain their original shape always. We buy under a guarantee—we sell the same way.

Our stock of these justly celebrated garments is now large. We have the ladies' coats in 4 lengths, 27, 42 and 50 inch, and full length. Raglans or tight fitting. Also a complete line Dress and Pan American Skirts of the Wooltex brand. It's safe to say these goods have no equal. A positive guarantee stands behind every garment bearing a Wooltex ticket.

LINOLEUMS.

Just opened a new line of English goods in 8-4, 10-4 and 16-4. Some of the most beautiful patterns yet shown in carpet effects. Remember the English goods are absolute pure cork and oil, hence do not dry out and crack as many American makes do where they are adulterated with other substances. Look at this new line and you'll buy no other. With an English Linoleum your kitchen floor will look almost as pretty as your parlor.
